v1.10.2 Live Update

> [Completed] The v1.10.2 hotfix is live on both Secura Horizon and Secura Origins. No client update is needed.

What's Fixed

Landing at space stations and starports

- Station landings: landing at a space station (for example Tansarii Point Station or Nova Orion Station) or at a starport now puts you on your feet at the landing point. Previously you could be left seated in your ship as if you were still flying.
- Stuck characters: some players who landed this way stayed stuck between the station and space, even after logging out and back in. Logging in now recovers you into the station and stows the ship.
- Atmospheric flight is unchanged: ships that take off from the ground in atmospheric flight behave exactly as before.

If your character is still stuck

1. Log out completely and log back in. Affected characters are recovered on login.
2. If you are still stuck, open an in-game ticket with your character name and the station or starport where you landed.

FAQ

Do I need to update my launcher or client? No. This was a server-side fix.

Will my ship be lost? No. Your ship is stowed as it would be after any normal landing, and you can call it again from the ship terminal.

Did this apply to both galaxies? Yes, Secura Horizon and Secura Origins received the fix at the same time.
