What's New

Live events run by our staff

Trained staff can now run live events in the game world, and you can take part. Events are planned in advance and go live when the event team is ready, so keep an eye on the community Discord and in-game announcements.

- Armies, bosses and ambushes. Standing armies, groups of troops, bosses and elites, ambushes and waves of enemies can appear at an event site.
- Dressed scenes. Event sites are decorated with props and scenery so they feel like a place, not an empty field.
- Temporary event structures. Military sheds, a merchant tent and a field warehouse can appear for the length of an event. They vanish when the event ends.
- Level ground. Event sites can be smoothed out so the action takes place on even ground.
- Announcements with a waypoint. When an event starts you see an in-game announcement and a waypoint to its location.

Rewards for taking part

Joining an event can earn you rewards:

- Credits.
- Live Event badges that show you were there.
- Event-only paintings. Ten paintings are available only as event rewards. They cannot be traded, and one character never receives the same painting twice.

Staff tool permissions tightened

Staff tools are now limited to the proper staff levels.

How to Take Part

- Update first. Run the launcher and let it finish.
- Watch for announcements. Events are announced in game with a waypoint, and on the community Discord.
- Bring friends and gear. Armies, bosses and ambushes can be tough. Groups do better.
- Stay for the whole event. Rewards are for those who take part.
